Reformed and Refreshing

April 12th, 2020

Welcome to Covenant Baptist Church. We are a Reformed church committed to three things:

- The Exaltation of God

We desire that the people at Covenant truly understand who God is and His rightful place in their lives as their Lord and sovereign Savior.

- The Edification of the Saints

We consider it extremely important to correctly teach the Bible, verse by verse, so we can properly have the Holy Spirit apply it to our lives.

- The Evangelization of the Sinner

We understand that God has given us the responsibility to be stewards of the Gospel and that means sharing it exactly like God gave it to us with those who need Jesus.

This is modeled after the men and women gathered together for prayer in the upper room in Acts 1. During the Wednesday evening service at 7 PM, we will have 2 or 3 men lead in a more directed prayer for specific topics or needs. Start date to be announced soon.

Book of the Week: Free to Be Holy, by Jerry Wragg and Paul Shirley

Reformed theology has made a welcome return to the church. With its resurgent emphasis on justification, unfortunately, has come confusion over the biblical pattern of sanctification. Rather than turning to the plain biblical language of faith, humility, and obedience, many are turning inward and measuring genuine love and obedience by their emotional experiences...

Because of grace, we are under obligation to the Word of God and how have resurrection power flowing through our spiritual veings, strengthening every discipline of grace and growing fruit that remains forever. Through faith-filled submission of our will to the Word of God, we “work out [our] salvation” knowing “it is God who is at work in [us], both to will and to work for his good pleasure” (Phil 2:13).

As in the Days of Noah

—by Ken Ham

Does our wicked generation have any precedent in biblical history? Comparisons with Noah's day are hard to deny. Judgment is coming—of that we can be sure. How should a believer react?

“But as the days of Noah were, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be” (Matthew 24:37).”

Regardless of how one interprets Matthew 24, there's no doubt that Christ referred to the rebellion and judgment in Noah's day, which He compared to mankind's subsequent rebellion and impending judgment. It's a sober warning for any generation to consider.

In the New Testament we read how Noah responded to the evil of his day: “By faith Noah, being divinely warned of things not yet seen, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark for the saving of his household, by which he condemned the world and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith” (Hebrews 11:7).

Noah's faithfulness in building the Ark and his trust in God give us an example of great faith, showing how his obedience to God actually condemned the rest of the world that had rebelled against their Creator. Noah built the Ark as God commanded, and then by faith he and his family went through the door of the Ark so they could be saved from the watery judgment.

This can be seen as a picture of salvation—just as Noah and his family went through the door, so too we need to go through a “door” to be saved. Jesus said, “I am the door. If anyone enters by Me, he will be saved, and will go in and out and find pasture” (John 10:9).

As we look at our Western culture today, I believe in many ways what we see reminds us of the days of Noah. “Then the Lord saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every intent of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually” (Genesis 6:5).

Think about what we observe today in our Western culture:

- Wickedness is increasing as people become more and more self-centered and walk away from the things of God.
- Evil is spreading in hearts as more and more people abandon the originally created purpose and meaning of marriage and support the abomination of homosexual behavior.
- Millions of human beings are slaughtered in their mothers' wombs—and it is legal. In America alone, since 1973, around 56 million children have been killed by abortion—making Germany's Holocaust pale in comparison.
- People increasingly worship nature rather than the God who created the world. For instance, in Colorado, USA, after an elk was shot early in 2013, people gathered together for a vigil for the elk—even holding hands and singing “Amazing Grace” in a eulogy for it. Yet on the same day in the USA, nearly 4,000 children were murdered in their mothers' wombs—and those at the elk vigil seemed to ignore this.
- We see increasing aggressiveness from the atheists as they mock Christians and try to demonize and marginalize those who adhere to the Christian faith.
- People in churches, including many church leaders, are compromising God's Word in many ways and watering down the teaching of its authority.
- The Bible, prayer, creation, and the Creator God are almost totally eliminated from the government education systems.

More and more legislation protects the teaching of the anti-God religion of evolution/millions of years in schools.

The list goes on and on—truly we are in a time of great wickedness. Thankfully God is longsuffering, as we read in 2 Peter: ““The Lord . . . is longsuffering toward us, not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance”” (2 Peter 3:9). But He is not going to stay silent forever. As in the days of Noah, the time will come when God closes the door of salvation and brings judgment to deal with mankind’s rebellion.

Judgment Already

In some ways, God is already judging our Western culture. For instance, Romans 1:24–26 makes it obvious that a sign God is turning a culture over to judgment is open homosexual behavior. We live in a time when the homosexual agenda has become epidemic across our Western nations. God is withdrawing the restraining influence of the Holy Spirit on these rebellious cultures, including the USA.

Romans 1 also tells us that in a culture that is rebelling against God we will see those who actively ““suppress the truth in unrighteousness”” (Romans 1:18) and ““changed the glory of the incorruptible God into an image made like corruptible man—and birds and four-footed animals and creeping things . . . ; who exchanged the truth of God for the lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever”” (Romans 1:23–25).

In fact, Romans 1 increasingly can be seen as a description of our world—a world that is becoming more like Noah’s generation every day.

Our Response

And just as God had Noah build an Ark that warned people of coming judgment and the grace of God in providing an Ark of salvation, we need to warn people of coming judgment (the final judgment by fire) and let them know that God has provided an “Ark” of salvation. (The Lord Jesus Christ is our “Ark” of salvation—He is the “door” through which we go to be saved.)

None of us knows when the return of Christ will be. After all, we are told in God’s Word in the context of this Second Coming and final judgment, ““But, beloved, do not forget this one thing, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some count slackness, but is longsuffering toward us”” (2 Peter 3:8–9).

So there is no time to delay. We need to take advantage of every opportunity to warn people now.

Quote of the Week:

True discernment means not only distinguishing the right from the wrong; it means distinguishing the primary from the secondary, the essential from the indifferent, and the permanent from the transient. And, yes, it means distinguishing between the good and the better, and even between the better and the best.
